INTRODUCTORY NOTE

Scope and source of statistics.

This volume is the thirty-second of the series which was commenced in 1884-85; it deals with statistics relating to the trade carried by rail and river in India during the five years ending 1919-20. An explanatory note on the method of collection and tabulation of the inland (rail-and river-borne) trade statistics is given in Appendix IV (pages 179 and 180), and a classified list of articles in the inland (rail and river-borne) trade of India is shown in Appendix V, pages 181-183).

The inland trade statistics are always of interest since they give some idea as to the extent of the movement of the staple articles of both the import and export trade between the different parts of the country. As such this volume is a supplement to the seaborne trade of the country. It shows where the commodities after importation into the ports go for consumption, and whence the ports obtain supplies for export abroad.

The year's trade.

In the inland trade the same merchandise appears once as exports from one block and again as imports into another block, and the total exports and imports of India, therefore, correspond. The total imports and exports of merchandise for the year ending 31st March, 1920, amounted to 64 million tons, or a decrease of 4 million tons over the preceding year and the pre-war year also.

Leading features of the season.

India being an agricultural country, the variations in the trade in its main staples depend to a great extent on the climatic conditions which are vital to the year's agricultural prosperity. In 1919-20, the monsoon set in at about the usual time, the rainfall being above the average during June to September, but it retreated from Northern India earlier than usual. The spring crops were affected in many provinces by hail, frost, rust, and winds. A yield much larger than last year's was, however, obtained in the case of most of the crops.

Imports into the ports.

The imports from up-country into the ports comprise chiefly such produce as grain and pulse, raw cotton, and oilseeds. Calcutta receives also a large quantity of coal and coke, raw jute, gunny bags and cloth, hides and skins, and tea; Bombay port receives coal and coke, hides and skins, oilseeds, and metallic ores, such as manganese; Karachi, raw wool; and the Madras ports, hides and skins.

The total quantity of merchandise imported into the ports by rail and river during the year 1919-20 was 14,035,000 tons, of which 10,837,000 tons, or 77 per cent, were made up of the ten articles shown in the table below:—

The share of Calcutta was 55 per cent of the total imports into the ports, of Bombay port 27 per cent, of Karachi 8 per cent, and of the Madras ports 10 per cent, during the year 1919-20.

Raw cotton.

The quantity of raw cotton imported into the ports in the year 1919-20 showed an increase of 33 per cent as compared with 1918-19, but a decrease of 17 per cent as compared with the pre-war year. Of the total imports, Bombay port received more than 75 per cent, her chief sources of supply being the Bombay Presidency, the Central Provinces and Berar, the Punjab, Madras (i.e., Madras Presidency including its ports), the United Provinces, Rajputana, and Central India.

Grain and pulse.

There was a very noticeable decrease in the imports into the ports of grain and pulse, which amounted to over $1\frac{1}{2}$ million tons in 1919-20, as against 3 million tons in the preceding year and $3\frac{1}{4}$ million tons in the pre-war year. Calcutta accounted for nearly half of the total imports, the remainder being divided almost equally between Karachi and Bombay port.

Gram and pulse.

The imports into the ports by rail and river of gram and pulse declined from 865,000 tons in 1918-19 to 429,000 tons in 1919-20. As compared with 1918-19, all the ports received smaller consignments, the imports into Karachi being 78 per cent less than in 1918-19. Bombay port received smaller consignments, chiefly from the Punjab, the United Provinces, the Central Provinces and Berar, and Bihar and Orissa; Karachi from the United Provinces, the Punjab, Rajputana, and Central India; and Calcutta from Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, and the United Provinces.

Rice not in the husk.

The quantity of rice imported into the ports fell from 892,000 tons in 1918-19 to 482,000 tons in 1919-20, the decrease being mainly due to smaller exports from Bengal and Madras.

Wheat.

The imports of wheat by rail and river into the ports from the interior also fell from 887,000 tons in 1918-19 to 351,000 tons in 1919-20. The Punjab supplied 60 per cent and the United Provinces 26 per cent of the total.

Oilseeds.

The quantity of oilseeds, the bulk of which consists of receipts mainly from the Nizam's Territory and also from the Bombay Presidency and the Central Provinces and Berar into Bombay port for export abroad, showed a considerable increase in the year under review from 876,000 tons in 1918-19 to 1,055,000 tons in 1919-20, and this, however, showed a decrease of about 901,000 tons as compared with the pre-war year 1913-14.

Coal and coke.

The imports of coal and coke into the ports by rail and river showed an increase of 110,000 tons or 2 per cent as compared with 1918-19, but a decrease of 179,000 tons or 3 per cent as compared with the pre-war year. The trade in coal and coke is chiefly done by Calcutta and Bombay port; the imports by rail and river into these ports rose from 4,551,000 tons in 1918-19 to 4,922,000 tons in 1919-20, due mainly to larger exports from Bihar and Orissa to Calcutta.

Jute raw.

There was an increase in the imports of raw jute into the ports as compared with the preceding year. Calcutta is practically the only port which has the monopoly of this trade. The imports of raw jute into Calcutta rose by 41,000 tons, or 5 per cent, when compared with 1918-19; but, as compared with the year 1913-14, they showed a decrease of 170,000 tons, or 16 per cent.

Gunny cloth.

As in raw jute, the trade in gunny bags and cloth is practically done by Calcutta alone. The total imports were 400,000 tons in 1919-20, as against 446,000 tons in 1918-19 and 210,000 tons in the pre-war year.

Hides and Skins.

The imports of hides and skins into the ports fell in the year under review from 124,000 tons to 111,000 tons, but compared with the pre-war year, they showed an advance of 20,000 tons.

Tea.

The total imports of tea into ports increased from 134,000 tons in 1918-19 to 136,000 tons in 1919-20. The quantity exported by sea also rose in 1919-20 and was the highest on record. The bulk of the exports abroad from India was from Calcutta.

Ores.

The decrease in the imports of metallic ores (chiefly manganese ore) into the ports from the interior from 398,000 tons in 1918-19 to 364,000 tons in 1919-20, was due mainly to smaller exports from the Central Provinces and Berar. Most of the manganese ore received from the Central Provinces and Berar was sent to Bombay port, but the trade with Jamsedpur (The Tata Iron and Steel Works) and with Calcutta has steadily increased in importance.

Wool, raw.

There was a decline in the imports of raw wool into the ports from 25,000 tons in 1918-19 to 22,000 tons in 1919-20, the imports of the pre-war year being 20,000 tons.

Exports inland from the ports.

The total exports inland from the ports to the interior were 5,442,000 tons in 1919-20, as against 4,747,000 tons in 1918-19 and 6,066,000 tons in the pre-war year. The following table shows the trade in eight principal articles exported from the ports by rail and river (representing nearly 53 per cent of the total) :—

Cotton piece goods

The exports by rail and river of cotton piece goods, Indian, from the ports increased from 53,000 tons in 1918-19 to 86,000 tons in the year under review, but those of piece goods, foreign, declined from 97,000 tons in 1918-19 to 83,000 tons in 1919-20. Exports from Calcutta of foreign piece goods increased from 38,000 tons to 45,000 tons, but those of Indian piece goods remained almost stationary. Bombay sent out 29,000 tons of foreign piece goods as against 46,000 tons, and 43,000 tons of Indian piece goods as against 25,000 tons, in the preceding year.

Despatches from Calcutta of piece goods of foreign manufacture were mainly to Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, the United Provinces, the Punjab, and Assam; and from Bombay port chiefly to the United Provinces, the Punjab, the Bombay Presidency, Rajputana, and Central India. Cotton piece goods of Indian manufacture were exported from Calcutta chiefly to Bengal, Bihar and Orissa and Assam; from Bombay port mainly to Calcutta, the United Provinces, and the Central Provinces and Berar; and from Karachi mainly to the Punjab and Sind and British Baluchistan.

Cotton yarn.

The exports of cotton twist and yarn, both foreign and Indian, decreased from 63,000 tons in 1918-19 to 43,000 tons in 1919-20, as against 53,000 tons in the pre-war year.

Sugar.

The great bulk of the trade in sugar, unrefined, was done by Calcutta, while that in sugar, refined, by Calcutta and Bombay and to a smaller extent by Karachi and the Madras ports. The exports of sugar, both refined and unrefined, decreased from 412,000 tons in 1918-19 to 315,000 tons in 1919-20. The exports in the pre-war year amounted to 627,000 tons. The chief recipients of sugar from Calcutta were Bengal, the United Provinces, the Punjab, Bihar and Orissa, Bombay port, Assam, and the Central Provinces and Berar; from Bombay port, the Bombay Presidency and the Central Provinces and Berar; from Karachi, the Punjab and Sind and British Baluchistan; and from the Madras ports, the Madras Presidency.

Iron and steel, wrought.

The trade in wrought iron and steel showed a remarkable recovery, and the exports from the ports by rail and river to the interior during the year under review increased to 269,000 tons, from 169,000 tons in 1918-19, although the quantity is far below that exported in 1913-14, namely, 648,000 tons.

Kerosene oil.

The exports of kerosene oil from the ports increased by 80,000 tons from 213,000 tons in 1918-19 to 293,000 tons in 1919-20. The distribution inland from the receiving ports was from Calcutta to Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, and Assam; from Bombay port to the rest of the Bombay Presidency, the Central Provinces and Berar, Rajputana, Central India, and the Nizam's Territory; from the Madras ports to the rest of the Madras Presidency, Mysore, and the Nizam's Territory; and from Karachi to the Punjab and Sind and British Baluchistan.

Salt.

Salt is distributed inland mainly from Calcutta and the Madras ports. The total exports inland from the ports during 1919-20 increased by 70,000 tons as compared with 1918-19, but showed a fall of 83,000 tons as compared with the pre-war year.

Rice not in the husk.

The exports by rail and river of rice not in the husk increased from 785,000 tons in 1918-19 to 1,114,000 tons in 1919-20, while the exports in the pre-war year amounted to 368,000 tons. The exports from Calcutta were directed chiefly to Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, the United Provinces, the Punjab, the Bombay Presidency port, and the Central Provinces and Berar, the Nizam's Territory, Central India, Karachi, and the Madras ports; from Bombay port to the rest of the Bombay Presidency and the Punjab; and from the Madras ports to the rest of the Madras Presidency and Mysore.

Railway plant and rolling stock.

There was, as anticipated, a remarkable increase in the imports from abroad of railway plant and rolling stock in the year under review. The exports from the ports to the interior by rail and river doubled from 85,000 tons in 1918-19 to 170,000 tons. As compared with the pre-war year, there was a decrease of 267,000 tons or 61 per cent.

Value.

The total imports and exports during the year were valued at Rs. 15,97 crores as against Rs. 12,31 crores in 1918-19 and 10,03 crores in the pre-war year. The value figures for certain staples of agricultural produce are shown side by side with the quantity figures in Appendix I (pages 168-173), and have been worked out at the rates given in Appendix III (page 178). These quantities and values represent the inland trade between the different external trade blocks, excluding the traffic between the internal blocks of a province. The following tables showing the volume and value of the inland trade in these articles for 1919-20 as compared with those for the years 1913-14 and 1918-19 are of much interest :—

NOTE.—The value rates given above are adopted in calculating the value of the trade in articles exported from the provinces and are the averages of the four quarterly rates shown in the provincial Inland Trade Reports. The rates for articles exported from the chief sea ports are those of their respective provinces and those for exports from Indian States are the rates of the provinces of import. In the case of exports from one Indian State to another, the valuation is made at the rates prevailing in the adjacent province, for example, the rates for Rajputana, Central India, the Nizam's Territory, Mysore, and Kashmir are taken as those of the Punjab, the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Bombay, Madras, and the Punjab, respectively.

Appendix IV

Note on the method of collection and tabulation of Statistics of the Rail and River-borne Trade

External Trade blocks

For the purpose of registration of the rail and river-borne trade the country is divided into 18 principal blocks, namely, nine blocks representing the British Provinces—Assam, Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, the Punjab (including the North-West Frontier Province and the Delhi Province), Sind and British Baluchistan, the Central Provinces and Berar, Bombay, and Madras; four representing the principal port towns—Calcutta, Bombay, the Madras seaports*, and Karachi; and five representing Indian States—Rajputana†, Central India†, the Nizam's territory, Mysore, and Kashmir. The trade shown in the accounts under the head "Bengal" is the trade of the province of Bengal excluding Calcutta, the trade of which is shown separately; similarly the trade credited to Bombay, to Sind and British Baluchistan, or to Madras, is the trade of such province excluding Bombay port, Karachi, or the seaports of Madras for which separate figures are given. The trade registered is the trade that comes into or goes out of each block by rail, exclusive of traffic that is merely booked through. The rail-borne trade is not registered in Burma‡. The trade of Indian States which lie within the external boundaries of a British province is included in the trade of the province.

Internal Trade blocks

With the exception of Sind and British Baluchistan, the British Provinces are subdivided into minor or internal blocks. The formation of these internal blocks was not carried out on any uniform principle. In some cases their boundaries follow administrative divisions, while in others they are determined by geographical or other considerations. The Indian States have no internal blocks.

Registration of the Rail-borne Trade

The registration of the rail-borne trade is done by the railway audit offices which register the goods carried for delivery to consignees on their own lines, and in some cases, passing over their lines for delivery on connected lines. Goods carried from one station to another within the same internal block are not registered. The required information is collected from railway invoices, which show, among other particulars, the description of goods, the stations from which they are sent and at which they are received, and the gross actual weights.

Rates of deduction for packages

A certain percentage§ which varies according to the class of goods is taken to represent the weight of packing materials, and this is deducted from the gross actual weights recorded in railway invoices. The remainder is taken as the net weight of the goods. This net weight is registered and is shown in these tables.

Quarterly returns and statements

The railway audit offices register the trade (1) between the internal blocks of a province, and (2) between the internal blocks of a province and the internal blocks of other provinces. They supply quarterly returns to the local authorities. Quarterly statements are prepared for each province for submission to this Department. The statements show—

i. The trade of the province as a whole with other provinces.
ii. The trade of each internal block in the province with other provinces.
iii. The trade of the internal blocks of the province with one another.

* Madras seaports are—Madras, Negapatam, Tuticorin, Calicut, Cocanada, Vizagapatam, Cuddalore, Cochin, Tellichery, Cannanore, Masulipatam, Mangalore, Quilon, Porto Novo, Badagara, Dhanushkodi, and the French Ports, namely, Pondicherry with its suburb Villianur, and Karikal.

† Constituted separate blocks from 1st April, 1919.

‡ The registration of the Inland Trade in Burma was abandoned in 1897. It was pointed out by the Government of Burma that "no request has ever been made by any mercantile body in Burma for the introduction of a system of registration of rail and river-borne trade. With regard to the movement of grain the Lieutenant-Governor is disposed to think that having regard to local conditions, statistics regarding such movement would be of little value, and that the existence of agricultural distress is already in all cases brought to notice by surer and more speedy methods than such statistics would afford."

§ Vide Appendix V

Consolidated accounts

The consolidated accounts of the inland trade of India are compiled from Statement I of the quarterly returns received from the several provinces and from the quarterly returns supplied by the railways concerned of the trade of the Indian States blocks with one another. The trade between each of the five Indian States blocks on the one hand and British provinces on the other is ascertained thus—the imports into British provinces from Indian States represent the exports from the Indian States, and the exports from the provinces represent imports into the Indian States.

River-borne Trade

The river-borne trade is registered between Bengal (including Calcutta) and Assam, Calcutta and Bihar and Orissa, Assam and Bihar and Orissa, Calcutta and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, and the Punjab and Sind and British Baluchistan. The results are combined with the rail-borne trade statistics. The river-borne trade represents the trade carried by country boats, as well as by inland steamers. The boat traffic is registered at certain selected river stations by clerks who collect the necessary information from the boatmen and forward the returns to the provincial offices. The trade carried by steamers is registered by the steamer agents, and in some cases clerks from provincial offices extract the required information from the invoices recorded in the steamer companies' offices. The trade carried partly by rail and partly by river, when booked through and carried by steamers running in connection with railways, is recorded generally by the railway audit offices concerned. This trade is treated as rail-borne trade.

Value

As the railway and steamer invoices do not show value, the returns prepared by the audit offices contain only figures of quantity recorded in standard maund of $82\frac{2}{7}$ lbs. The annual provincial reports contain figures of value assigned by provincial offices, but for certain classes of articles the values recorded in those reports represent only a very vague approximation to the truth and no exact debtor and creditor account exhibiting the true balance of trade can be extracted therefrom. The values in the provincial reports, therefore, are not taken into account in the accounts for India which contain only figures of quantity in cwts converted from net weights in maunds. As, however, the values provide the only possible common measure by which the relative importance of each article can be ascertained, they are retained in the provincial reports. The classified list of articles* shown in the tables is arranged in alphabetical order. The classification corresponds in the main with that employed in the sea-borne trade accounts ; but it is less detailed, and the various articles are not grouped under main headings.

Explanation of Tables

The nature of the trade recorded in the several tables of this account is explained below :—

Table I is an abstract of the rail and river-borne trade of British India showing the total quantity of merchandise imported into and exported from each province and Indian State and the chief ports. Figures are given for the five years ending 1919-20. Table II is a similar abstract for treasure. Table III is an abstract table showing for five years the imports into, and exports from, each of the eighteen principal blocks of each article according to the classified list. Table IV gives a general view of the trade of the year in each article, showing at once the quantities imported into, and exported from, each of the eighteen principal blocks. Tables V-XII show the imports and exports of principal articles (i.e., articles the trade in which exceeds 10,000 cwts a year in each province) into and from Calcutta, Bombay port, Karachi, and Madras port for five years.

The only modification in the classification of articles introduced with effect from the 1st April, 1919, is the separate exhibition of the trade in bones.

Explanatory Note.

Note on the method of collection and tabulation of Statistics of the Rail and River-borne Trade

External Trade blocks

For the purpose of registration of the rail and river-borne trade the country is divided into 18 principal blocks, namely, nine blocks representing the British Provinces—Assam, Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, the Punjab (including the North-West Frontier Province and the Delhi Province), Sind and British Baluchistan, the Central Provinces and Berar, Bombay, and Madras; four representing the principal port towns—Calcutta, Bombay, the Madras seaports*, and Karachi; and five representing Indian States—Rajputana†, Central India†, the Nizam's territory, Mysore, and Kashmir. The trade shown in the accounts under the head "Bengal" is the trade of the province of Bengal excluding Calcutta, the trade of which is shown separately; similarly the trade credited to Bombay, to Sind and British Baluchistan, or to Madras, is the trade of such province excluding Bombay port, Karachi, or the Madras seaports, for which separate figures are given. The trade registered is the trade that comes into or goes out of each block by rail, exclusive of traffic that is merely booked through. The rail-borne trade is not registered in Burma‡. The trade of Indian States which lie within the external boundaries of a British province is included in the trade of the province.

Internal Trade blocks

With the exception of Sind and British Baluchistan, the British Provinces are subdivided into minor or internal blocks. The formation of these internal blocks was not carried out on any uniform principle. In some cases their boundaries follow administrative divisions, while in others they are determined by geographical or other considerations. The Indian States have no internal blocks.

Registration of the Rail-borne Trade

The registration of the rail-borne trade is done by the railway audit offices which register the goods carried for delivery to consignees on their own lines, and in some cases, passing over their lines for delivery on connected lines. Goods carried from one station to another within the same internal block are not registered. The required information is collected from railway invoices, which show, among other particulars, the description of goods, the stations from which they are sent and at which they are received, and the gross actual weights.

Rates of deduction for packages

A certain percentage§, which varies according to the class of goods, is taken to represent the weight of packing materials, and this is deducted from the gross actual weights recorded in railway invoices. The remainder is taken as the net weight of the goods. This net weight is registered and is shown in these tables.

Quarterly returns and statements

The railway audit offices register the trade (1) between the internal blocks of a province, and (2) between the internal blocks of a province and the internal blocks of other provinces. They supply quarterly returns to local authorities. Quarterly statements are prepared for each province for submission to this Department. The statements show—

i. The trade of the province as a whole with other provinces.
ii. The trade of each internal block in the province with other provinces.
iii. The trade of the internal blocks of the province with one another.

* Madras seaports are—Madras, Negapatam, Tuticorin, Calicut, Cocanada, Vizagapatam, Cuddalore, Cochin, Tellichery, Cannanore, Masulipatam, Mangalore, Quilon, Porto Novo, Badagara, Dhanushkodi, and the French Ports, namely, Pondicherry with its suburb Villianur, and Karikal.

† Constituted separate blocks from 1st April, 1919

‡ The registration of the Inland Trade in Burma was abandoned in 1897. It was pointed out by the Government of Burma that "no request has ever been made by any mercantile body in Burma for the introduction of a system of registration of rail and river-borne trade. With regard to the movement of grain the Lieutenant-Governor is disposed to think that having regard to local conditions, statistics regarding such movement would be of little value, and that the existence of agricultural distress is already in all cases brought to notice by surer and more speedy methods than such statistics would afford."

§ Vide Appendix IV

Consolidated accounts

The consolidated accounts of the inland trade of India are compiled from Statement I of the quarterly returns received from the several provinces and from the quarterly returns supplied by the railways concerned of the trade of the Indian States blocks with one another. The trade between each of the five Indian States blocks on the one hand and British provinces on the other is ascertained thus—the imports into British provinces from Indian States represent the exports from the Indian States, and the exports from the provinces represent imports into the Indian States.

River-borne Trade

The river-borne trade is registered between Bengal (including Calcutta) and Assam, Calcutta and Bihar and Orissa, Assam and Bihar and Orissa, Calcutta and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, and the Punjab and Sind and British Baluchistan. The results are combined with the rail-borne trade statistics. The river-borne trade represents the trade carried by country boats, as well as by inland steamers. The boat traffic is registered at certain selected river stations by clerks who collect the necessary information from the boatmen and forward the returns to provincial offices. The trade carried by steamers is registered by the steamer agents, and in some cases clerks from provincial offices extract the required information from the invoices recorded in the steamer companies' offices. The trade carried partly by rail and partly by river, when booked through and carried by steamers running in connection with railways, is recorded generally by the railway audit offices concerned. This trade is treated as rail-borne trade.

Value

As the railway and steamer invoices do not show value, the returns prepared by the audit offices contain only figures of quantity recorded in standard maund of $82\frac{2}{7}$ lbs. The annual provincial reports contain figures of value assigned by provincial offices, but for certain classes of articles the values recorded in those reports represent only a very vague approximation to the truth and no exact debtor and creditor account exhibiting the true balance of trade can be extracted therefrom. The values in the provincial reports, therefore, are not taken into account in the accounts for India which contain only figures of quantity in cwts converted from net weights in maunds. As, however, the values provide the only possible common measure by which the relative importance of each article can be ascertained, they are retained in the provincial reports. The classified list of articles* shown in the tables is arranged in alphabetical order. The classification corresponds in the main with that employed in the sea-borne trade accounts ; but it is less detailed, and the various articles are not grouped under main headings.

Explanation of Tables

The nature of the trade recorded in the several tables of this account is explained below :—Table I is an abstract of the rail and river-borne trade of British India, showing the total quantity of merchandise imported into and exported from each province and Indian State and the chief ports. Figures are given for the five years ending 1920-21. Table II is a similar abstract for treasure. Table III is an abstract table showing for five years the imports into, and exports from, each of the eighteen principal blocks of each article according to the classified list. Table IV gives a general view of the trade of the year in each article, showing at once the quantities imported into, and exported from, each of the eighteen principal blocks. Tables V-XII show the imports and exports of principal articles (i.e., articles the trade in which exceeds 10,000 cwts a year in each province) into and from Calcutta, Bombay port, Karachi, and Madras port for five years.

The only modification in the classification of articles introduced with effect from the 1st April, 1919, is the separate exhibition of the trade in bones.

Inland Trade of India

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

Scope of statistics.

This volume is the thirty-third of the series which was started in 1884-85. It deals with statistics relating to the trade carried by rail and river in India during the five years ending 1920-21.

The inland trade statistics are always of interest since they give some idea as to the extent of the movement of the staple articles of both the import and export trade between the different parts of the country. As such, this volume is a supplement to the foreign seaborne trade of British India. It shows where the commodities after importation into the ports go for consumption, and whence the ports obtain supplies for export abroad.

The year's trade.

In the inland trade the same merchandise appears once as exports from one block and again as imports into another block, and the total exports and imports of India, therefore, correspond. The total imports and exports of merchandise for the year ending 31st March, 1921, amounted to 68 million tons, or an increase of 4 million tons over the preceding year, and were slightly above the pre-war year level.

Leading features of the season.

India being an agricultural country, the variations in the trade in its main staples depend largely on her climatic conditions which affect the outturns of crops. In 1920-21, the monsoon started well, but ended adversely. The average rainfall of the monsoon period over the plains of India, as a whole, was 12 per cent below the normal, the year's fall was in defect in most parts of the country, the only exceptions being South Madras and parts of North East India. As a consequence a smaller yield than that of the preceding year was obtained for all the crops except groundnut and indigo.

Imports into the ports.

The imports from up-country into the ports comprise chiefly grain and pulse, oilseeds, and raw cotton. Calcutta receives also a large quantity of coal and coke, raw jute, gunny bags and cloth, hides and skins, and tea; Bombay port receives coal and coke, hides and skins, oilseeds, and metallic ores, such as manganese; Karachi, raw wool; and the Madras ports, hides and skins.

The total quantity of merchandise imported into the ports by rail and river during the year 1920-21 was 15,380,000 tons, of which 12,186,000 tons, or 79 per cent, were made up of the ten articles shown in the table below :—

Calcutta took 60 per cent of the total imports into the ports, Bombay port 23 per cent, Karachi 9 per cent, and the Madras ports 8 per cent during the year 1920-21.

Raw cotton

Imports of raw cotton into the ports in the year 1920-21 decreased by 8 per cent as compared with the preceding year and by 23 per cent as compared with the pre-war year 1913-14. Of the total imports, Bombay port received 80 per cent her chief sources of supply being the Bombay Presidency, the Central Provinces and Berar, the Punjab, the Madras Presidency including its ports, the United Provinces, Rajputana, Central India, and the Nizam's Territory.

Grain and pulse.

There was an increase in the imports into the ports of grain and pulse, which amounted to over 2 million tons in 1920-21, as against 1½ million tons in the preceding year, but a decrease of 1 million tons as compared with the pre-war year. Calcutta and Karachi each accounted for more than one-third of the total imports, Madras ports for one-ninth, and Bombay for the remainder.

Gram and pulse.

The imports of gram and pulse increased from 429,000 tons in 1919-20 to 441,000 tons in 1920-21. As compared with 1919-20, all the ports except Karachi had larger receipts, the imports into Karachi being 67 per cent less than in 1919-20.

Rice not in the husk.

There was a decline in the imports of rice from 482,000 tons in 1919-20 to 448,000 tons in 1920-21, due mainly to smaller exports from Assam and Bengal.

Wheat.

The imports of wheat, however, increased from 351,000 tons in 1919-20 to 805,000 tons in 1920-21. The Punjab supplied 70 per cent and the United Provinces 18 per cent of the total.

Oilseeds.

The quantity of oilseeds which come mainly from the Nizam's Territory and also from the Bombay Presidency, the United Provinces, and the Central Provinces and Berar into Bombay port for export abroad, decreased by 206,000 tons as compared with the preceding year and by 1,107,000 tons as compared with the pre-war year 1913-14.

Coal and coke.

The imports of coal and coke increased by 862,000 tons or 15 per cent as compared with 1919-20 and by 683,000 tons or 12 per cent as compared with the pre-war year. The imports into the ports of Calcutta and Bombay, which do the bulk of the trade in coal and coke, rose from 4,922,000 tons in 1919-20 to 5,956,000 tons in 1920-21, due mainly to larger exports from Bihar and Orissa to Calcutta.

Jute, raw.

The arrivals of raw jute into the ports increased during the year of report. The imports into Calcutta, which has the monopoly of the jute trade, rose by 23,000 tons, or 3 per cent, as compared with 1919-20; but, as compared with the year 1913-14, they showed a decrease of 147,000 tons, or 14 per cent.

Gunny cloth.

The trade in gunny bags and cloth is also practically done by Calcutta alone. The total imports were 368,000 tons in 1920-21, as against 400,000 tons in 1919-20 and 210,000 tons in the pre-war year.

Hides and Skins.

There was a decrease in the imports of hides and skins in the year under review from 111,000 tons to 37,000 tons. As compared with the pre-war year, the decline was by 54,000 tons.

Tea.

The total imports of tea into ports decreased from 136,000 tons in 1919-20 to 98,000 tons in 1920-21, Calcutta doing the bulk of the tea trade.

Ores.

The quantity of metallic ores (chiefly manganese ore) imported into the ports from the interior increased from 364,000 tons in 1919-20 to 810,000 tons in 1920-21, due mainly to larger exports from the Central Provinces and Berar. Most of the manganese ore received from the Central Provinces and Berar was sent to Bombay port and to Calcutta.

Wool, raw.

Imports of raw wool declined from 22,000 tons in 1919-20 to 13,000 tons in 1920-21, the imports of the pre-war year being 20,000 tons.

The total despatches from the ports to the interior were 5,024,000 tons in 1920-21, as against 5,442,000 tons in 1919-20 and 6,066,000 tons in the pre-war year. The following table shows the trade in eight principal articles exported from the ports by rail and river (representing nearly 52 per cent of the total) :— Exports inland from the ports.

The exports of Indian cotton piece goods increased from 86,000 tons in 1919-20 to 97,000 tons in the year under review, while foreign piece goods declined from 83,000 tons in 1919-20 to 51,000 tons in 1920-21. Exports from Calcutta of foreign piece goods decreased from 45,000 tons to 33,000 tons, and of Indian piece goods from 13,000 tons to 11,000 tons. The quantity of foreign piece goods despatched by Bombay declined by 20,000 tons, but that of Indian piece goods increased by 12,000 tons. Cotton piece goods.

The chief recipients of foreign piece goods from Calcutta were Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, the United Provinces, the Punjab, and Assam; and those from Bombay port were the United Provinces, the Punjab, the Bombay Presidency, Rajputana, and Central India. Indian cotton piece goods were, on the other hand, exported from Calcutta, chiefly to Bengal, Bihar and Orissa and Assam; from Bombay port, mainly to the rest of the Bombay Presidency, the United Provinces, Bihar and Orissa, the Punjab and Calcutta; and from Karachi, mostly to the Punjab and Sind and British Baluchistan.

The exports of cotton twist and yarn, both foreign and Indian, increased from 43,000 tons in 1919-20 to 55,000 tons in 1920-21, as against 53,000 tons in the pre-war year. Cotton yarn.

The great bulk of the trade in unrefined sugar was done by Calcutta, while in refined sugar, by Calcutta and Bombay, and, to a smaller extent, by Karachi and the Madras ports. The exports of sugar, both refined and unrefined, decreased from 315,000 tons in 1919-20 to 230,000 tons in 1920-21. The exports in the pre-war year amounted to 627,000 tons. Despatches of sugar from Calcutta were chiefly to Bengal, the United Provinces, the Punjab, Bihar and Orissa. Bombay port, Assam, and the Central Provinces and Berar; from Bombay port to the Bombay Presidency and the Central Provinces and Berar; from Karachi to the Punjab and Sind and British Baluchistan; and from the Madras ports to the Madras Presidency and Mysore. Sugar.

Iron and steel, wrought.

Exports from the ports of wrought iron and steel increased to 465,000 tons, from 269,000 tons in 1919-20, although the quantity was still far below that exported in 1913-14, namely, 648,000 tons.

Kerosene oil.

The quantity of kerosene oil exported from the ports decreased by 28,000 tons from 293,000 tons in 1919-20 to 265,000 tons in 1920-21. The distribution was from Calcutta to Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, Assam, and Bombay port; from Bombay port to the rest of the Bombay Presidency, the Central Provinces and Berar, the United Provinces, Rajputana, Central India, and the Nizam's Territory; from the Madras ports to the rest of the Madras Presidency, Mysore, and the Nizam's Territory; and from Karachi to the Punjab, Sind and British Baluchistan, the United Provinces, and Rajputana.

Salt.

Salt is distributed inland mainly from Calcutta and the Madras ports. The total exports inland from the ports during 1920-21 decreased by 5,000 tons as compared with 1919-20, and by 88,000 tons as compared with the pre-war year.

Rice not in the husk.

The quantity of rice not in the husk despatched from the ports decreased from 1,114,000 tons in 1919-20 to 742,000 tons in 1920-21. The exports from Calcutta were directed chiefly to Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, the United Provinces, the Punjab, the Bombay port, the Central Provinces and Berar, the Nizam's Territory, Central India, Karachi, and the Madras Presidency; from Bombay port to the rest of the Bombay Presidency, the Central Provinces and Berar, the Madras Presidency, Central India, and the Nizam's Territory; and from the Madras ports to the rest of the Madras Presidency, Mysore, the Nizam's Territory, and Bombay port.

Railway plant and rolling stock.

There was an increase in the imports from abroad of railway plant and rolling stock in the year under review. The exports from the ports to the interior by rail and river rose from 170,000 tons in 1919-20 to 200,000 tons. As compared with the pre-war year, however, there was a decrease of 237,000 tons or 54 per cent.

Value.

The total imports and exports during the year were valued at Rs. 14,97 crores as against Rs. 15,97 crores in 1919-20, the decrease being due to lower prices of articles than in the preceding year. The value figures for certain staples of agricultural produce are shown side by side with the quantity figures in Appendix I (pages 168-173), and have been worked out at the rates given in Appendix III (page 178). These quantities and values represent the inland trade between the different external trade blocks, excluding the traffic between the internal blocks of a province. The following tables show the volume and value of the inland trade in these articles for 1920-21 as compared with those for the years 1913-14 and 1919-20 :—

The following were the exports (in hundredweights) of kerosene oil from Budge Budge to all places excepting Calcutta :—

NOTE.—The value rates given above are adopted in calculating the value of the trade in articles exported from the provinces and are the averages of the four quarterly rates shown in the provincial Inland Trade Reports. The rates for articles exported from the chief sea ports are those of their respective provinces and those for exports from Indian States are the rates of the provinces of import. In the case of exports from one Indian State to another, the valuation is made at the rates prevailing in the adjacent province, for example, the rates for Rajputana, Central India, the Nizam's Territory, Mysore, and Kashmir are taken as those of the Punjab, the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Bombay, Madras, and the Punjab, respectively
